"Now Friedkin says "the best work" for directors is on television with cable and streaming networks that make shows such as True Detective and House of Cards. "You develop character at a greater length and the story is more complex and deeper than cinema," the director said, "this is the new zeitgeist. Many of the fine filmmakers of today are going to long-form TV. It is the most welcoming place to work for a director today."

Superhero movies are ruining cinema, says Exorcist director William Friedkin

'Films used to be rooted in gravity. They were about real people doing real things,' the acclaimed filmmaker says. 'Today cinema is all about Batman, Superman, Iron...

It's time for the other HRC-Hillary Clinton--to tell the politically tone deaf Human Rights Campaign that she will decline their endorsement, unless they back Tammy Duckworth in the Illinois Senate race, giving the Democrats a better chance to take the US Senate, and giving Hillary a better chance to appoint a pro-LGBT rights justice to the US Supreme Court. Mike Wu High speed train doesn't answer questions for material transportation. I can't carry a big piece of granite slab onto a train, no matter how fast it goes. I need a pickup. You need trucks to get food to the market. Trains can only carry people. But if we can telecommute, we don't need to move people.

Sweden is shifting to a 6-hour work day

Despite research telling us it's a really bad idea, many of us end up working 50-hour weeks or more because we think we'll get more done and reap the benefits later. And according to a study published last month involving 600,000 people, those of...

'I don't speak of "#fascism" lightly. One of #democracy's values is open, honest, and civil #conversation across lines of political conflict. Calling something or someone "fascist" sounds uncivil, to say the least, and tends to be a conversation-stopper.

And yet there are times when no other word will do to name a political phenomenon that can be rationally defined and factually identified, and must be stopped in its tracks. The ultimate conversation-stopper is not the word "fascism" but fascism itself, which aims at shutting down the #dialogue of differences that characterizes democracy at its creative best.'

Will Fascism Trump Democracy?

The greatest threat to American democracy doesn't come from outside but from within. Parker Palmer serves up three traits to look for in a fascist leader — and words and a poem from Abraham Lincoln and W.H. Auden.

'Mr. Brown's improbable story — that of a Republican who campaigned against Mr. #Obama but eventually came to credit the president's signature health care law with his very survival — got the attention of the White House, where the mail has taken on an outsize role in the writing of Mr. Obama's legacy in his last year in office.

So when it came time this month for Mr. Obama to promote the #AffordableCareAct in Milwaukee, Mr. Brown, 32, got the chance to sit down for a lunch with the president, and then introduce him to a crowd of 700 at a middle school there.

"I would not be alive without access to care I received due to your law,"... '

Obama Often Depends on Mail to Tell His Story

Around the White House, they're known as the 10 LADs — the 10 letters a day President Obama insists on reading, and sometimes using to make a point.

The best way to boost #grassroots fundraising is with grassroots #campaign activities. Just inviting folks to fundraisers or asking for money won't work. You have to have them tabling, calling, walking and feeling like they're building up something locally for the future. Then the contributions will start coming in on a regular basis.

While I don't agree with #HillaryClinton on a #Syrian no-fly zone, the #Libyan conflict was extremely complex.

The idea that #Gaddafi might still be in power in a "stable" Libya if the West had not intervened is very speculative. Gaddafi was probably less powerful than Syria's Assad, yet look what happened in the latter country.

Landscapes and geographical features may play an important role in a movie. What would a Western be without the reddish sandstone buttes of Monument Valley, a Bond film without the tropical volcanic island as secret lair of an evil mastermind, or the Lord of The Rings trilogy without its rocky prairies and Mount Doom?

conspiracy theorists are myriad.

"San Francisco's fog is famous, especially in the summer, when weather conditions combine to create the characteristic cooling blanket that sits over the Bay Area.

But one fact many may not know about San Francisco's fog is that in 1950, the US military conducted a test to see whether it could be used to help spread a biological weapon in a "simulated germ-warfare attack." This was just the start of many such tests around the country that would go on in secret for years."

One of the largest human experiments in history was conducted on unsuspecting residents of San...
